

“I found reaffirmations in my abilities and skills and a new sense of confidence and comfort.”

– Grace Moon, Acting Director,
Office of AIDS Policy Coordination,
New York Department of Health and Mental Hygiene

LOCATION

Three on-site retreats will be held in Chapel Hill, North Carolina during the nine-month fellowship. For the remainder of the program, fellows will learn through distance learning.

HOW TO REGISTER

Applicants may register online at www.publichealthleaders.org. For more information, please call 919-843-8541.

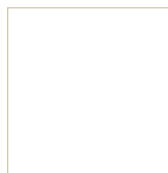

FEES

Tuition includes instruction, materials, on-site retreat accommodations and meals.

CONTACT INFORMATION

Emerging Leaders in Public Health
NC Institute for Public Health, School of Public Health
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Campus Box 8165
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-8165
Mekeisha Williams, MPA, Director
Office: 919-843-8541 | Fax: 919-843-5563
emergingleaders@unc.edu

Emerging Leaders in Public Health
NC Institute for Public Health, School of Public Health
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Campus Box 8165
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-8165

Emerging Leaders in Public Health

THE UNIVERSITY of NORTH CAROLINA
at CHAPEL HILL

SCHOOL OF PUBLIC HEALTH
• • •
KENAN-FLAGLER BUSINESS SCHOOL

THE EMERGING LEADERS IN PUBLIC HEALTH FELLOWSHIP IS designed to prepare the next generation of public health leaders by identifying and training those individuals with the talent to serve in significant leadership capacities in the next decade.

Fellows learn the essential skills necessary for leading and managing in a turbulent public health environment.

DATES: TBA

TUITION: $6,000

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

Emerging Leaders in Public Health is designed for public health professionals who:

- ← Have at least 3 years of experience in public health
- ← Work with traditionally underrepresented populations
- ← Committed to careers in public health
- ← Want to improve leadership skills for improved planning and decision-making
- ← Want to increase their professional network

TOPICS

- ← Effectively managing dwindling resources on state and federal levels
- ← Managing in times of financial crisis
- ← Creating sustainable organizations in public health
- ← Meeting community needs with limited human resources
- ← Managing an increasingly diverse workforce
- ← Communicating effectively with an increasingly diverse clientele, particularly in times of crisis
- ← Analyzing crisis scenarios and assessing their potential impact on your organization and community
- ← Managing communications to the public about health or environmental crises

PROGRAM BENEFITS

- ← Improved understanding, skill, confidence, and leadership practices in crisis communication, crises human resources, and crisis financial leadership
- ← Improved leadership meta-skills: problem-solving, reflection, continuous self-development, communication, creativity, collaboration, teamwork, change management
- ← Increased self-awareness and self-monitoring in career development and in leadership work
- ← Improved understanding and skill in leading in a diverse world
- ← Increased participation in networking and peer mentoring
- ← Increased entry into formal and informal leadership roles in organizations and communities

98%
of fellows intend to stay in touch
with other
ELPH
participants

100%
of alumni
have applied
what they learned to their personal development
as leaders

Statistics based on ELPH evaluation reports from the 2005-2006 Fellowship.